

At left—A remarkable background for this picture is furnished by the smoke from a locomotive on the tracks which run past the Long Branch horse show grounds. The rider is Miss Joan B. Mickler and her mount is Bay o' Light. Above—A general view of the horse show grounds during the judging in one of the saddle classes. Jersey seashore Society people and horse lovers from all over assembled in large numbers for this annual event. Photo by Paul Thompson.

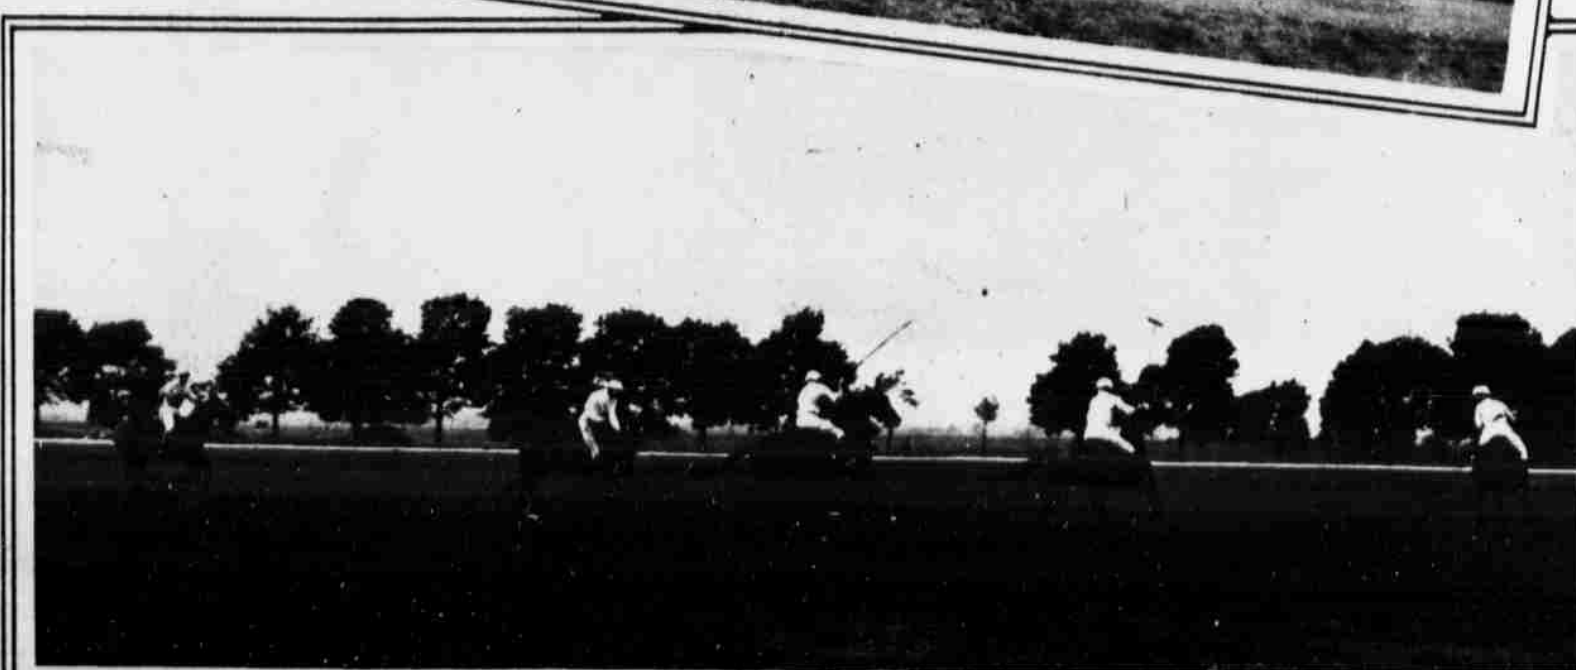

The Varuna, J. N. Ford's big sloop, rounding a turn in the recent Larchmont regatta, in which she finished first in her class. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Above—The golf team representing the United States in the annual match with Canada, which was won by the Americans. From left to right they are: George Ormiston, John G. Anderson, W. C. Fownes, Max Marston, Francis Ouimet, Robert Gardner, Oswald Kirkby, Eben Byers, Jerome Travers, Bobby Jones and Chick Evans. Below—Ouimet driving from the third tee during the match. Photo by Edwin Levick.

Governor and Mrs. Alfred E. Smith on a visit to the farm of the Women's Land Army at Marlboro, N. Y. Both were much pleased with what they saw and Mrs. Smith couldn't resist taking some of the produce right along with her. Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

America's leading polo players have started on a campaign to recover the International Cup, which was carried off to England before the war by Lord Wimborne's team. The field of the Meadowbrook Club at Hempstead is where the poloists are having their tryouts. Photo, International Film.